

What is kidney rejection?

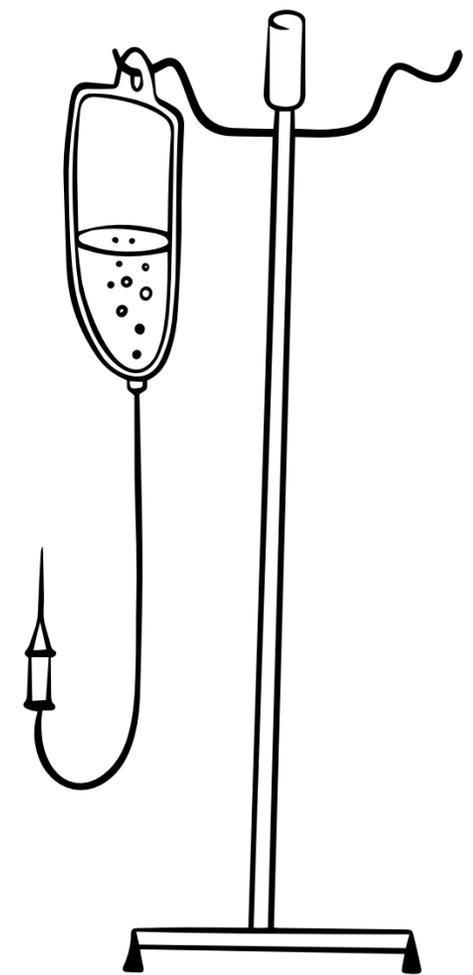

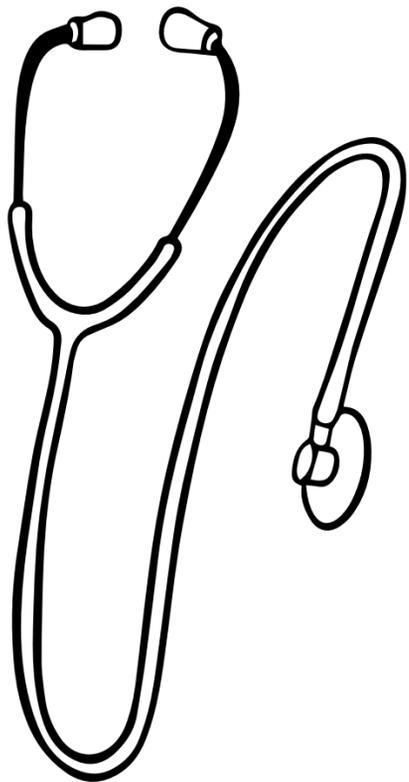

with the unconditional
unrestricted grant of

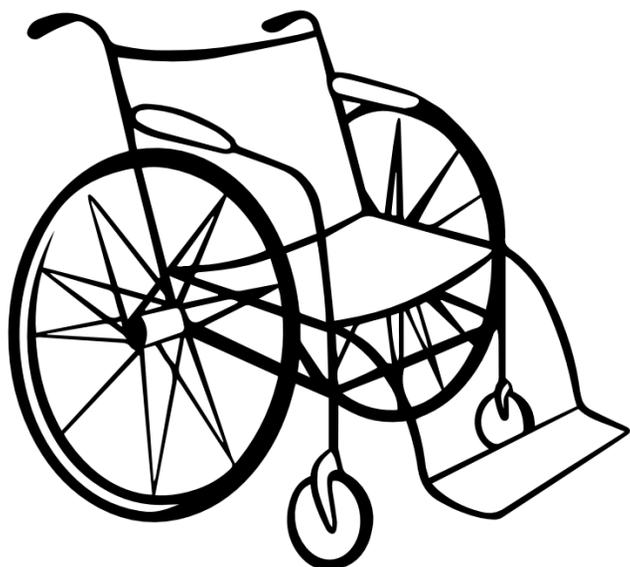

Rejection

is the body's way of not accepting the new kidney

The immune system
recognizes the transplanted organ as a foreign body and attacks it

Rejection is most common in the first months
after surgery
but it can occur at any time Common symptoms:

Fever and reduced
urine output

Elevated blood
creatinine level

Protein in the urine